24 year-old Devon artist Kate Marshall will be exhibiting selected works in a group show at Green Park Brasserie, Green Park Station, Green Park Road, Bath, Avon BA1 2DR on 3 and 4 December 2006, 1100 – 1700. There is a private view on Sunday 3 December from 1900. Admission is free and parking available (www.greenparkbrasserie.com/location.php). Other exhibiting artists include Ian Francis, Ruth Brown, Lauren Bishop and Victoria Rose.

Favouring acrylic and charcoal on board, Kate's primarily figurative work "flirts between painting and drawing". Her self-consciously decorative pieces address the ironies and contradictions of "high" and "low" art and depictions of the sexualized female image in popular culture. She loves the "alchemic" power of paint: her inspiration comes from images of women "culled from a glossy magazine, a fairy tale, historic art and literature, trash culture, ancient myth and coffee table erotica."

The Green Park Brassiere is one of Bath's best kept secrets. Located within the old ticket office of the Green Park Station, this fantastic building is a triumph to mid-Victorian railway architecture.

Born in the UK in 1982, Kate Marshall lives and works in Devon. After completing a foundation course in Art and Design at Falmouth College she graduated from Goldsmiths in 2004 with a BA in Fine Art and Art History. She has recently been selected as the South West representative for the Noise Festival, a national showcase for creative talent age 25 and under judged by Stella Vine. Her first solo show is currently running at Eyestorm Exeter and a second solo show is set for Spring 2007 in Heidelberg, Germany.
