24 year-old Devon artist Kate Marshall will be exhibiting selected works in her first solo show at Eyestorm Exeter, Exeter Quay, 27 Commercial Rd, Exeter, Devon EX2 4AE (www.eyestorm.com/showrooms/exeter/) from 24 November – 23 December 2006. There is a private view on Thursday 23 November from 1700. Gallery opening times are Tuesday – Saturday 10.00am – 6.00pm.

Favouring acrylic and charcoal on board, Kate's primarily figurative work "flirts between painting and drawing". Her self-consciously decorative pieces address the ironies and contradictions of "high" and "low" art and depictions of the sexualized female image in popular culture. She loves the "alchemic" power of paint: her inspiration comes from images of women "culled from a glossy magazine, a fairy tale, historic art and literature, trash culture, ancient myth and coffee table erotica."

Eyestorm offers a broad selection of contemporary limited edition prints and photographs as well as affordable original art by emerging British artists. It has recently re-located to London's Bankside area, directly adjacent to the Tate Modern's celebrated Turbine Hall entrance. Eyestorm Exeter is one of a growing list of regional and international galleries including Newcastle, Ipswich and Milan. For more details visit www.eyestorm.com

Born in the UK in 1982, Kate Marshall lives and works in Devon. After completing a foundation course in Art and Design at Falmouth College she graduated from Goldsmiths in 2004 with a BA in Fine Art and Art History. She has exhibited nationally and internationally with Eyestorm and other London galleries. She has recently been selected as the South West representative for the Noise Festival, a national showcase for creative talent age 25 and under judged by Stella Vine. A second solo show is set for Spring 2007 in Heidelberg, Germany.
